THIS WEEK'S FEATURED TOPIC:

NEVER MIND, GEORGE.
WE FIXED IT

It has been many years since there has been hot water in the showers of the women's privies. It is not in our nature to let such a heinous lack of consideration go unheeded, so as a grand gesture our love and goodwill to the female participants of TRF, we have engineered and installed a method of providing the elusive luxury of aqua caliente. Behold, the bounteous rewards of the overachieving left brains at TRF(WTF?):

Instructions for use: Point the nozzle at your body and squeeze the handle (duh). You gotta do the cooking
by the book!

IMAGES YOU CAN'T UN-SEE

Somewhere a CareBear is missing his scrotum

If that doesn't scare the sheep, nothing will.

Left hand on blue! Right foot on green! Get your face out of my crotch!

Do you have something you can't un-see? Email it to us

Just when our watering eyes had recovered from last year, here he is again! Oh the pain, the pain!

fires!"*

ENTERTAINING PATRON SHENANIGANS

There were a few interesting reports for last weekend, but we have a sneaky suspicion that a lot of Scottish shenanigans were going on that were mercifully hidden from sight of the general (IE "normal") paying public. After all, we don't want to scare the kids, now do we?

Saturday morning brought an unsettling couple of events concerning turkey legs. Apparently a woman passed out right at the turkey leg place. Now that in itself is not highly alarming, but 15 minutes later another call came in that somebody else had passed out at the same turkey leg place. Our brains were all going "uh, oh"... Either a fat, hairy, kilt-clad Scotsman took an opportunity to pass an unusually noxious amount of gas in that exact spot, or something had gone badly wrong in turkey land. It will have to remain a poser though, since nobody really ever figured out what was going on.

Later on, the EMTs got a call for a man that was reported having chest pains at the Falconer's Stage. Upon their timely arrival, they found that the stricken man was MIA, which was surprising given the nature of the problem. As it turned out, the gentleman in question was actually at the Falconer Shoppe. An honest mistake and we hope the gentleman will be ok.

Saturday night, the Green Man and his minions over in Cooter Hollow found out that pine trees will actually burn if you set fire to them. Good lord, can you believe that? We think what is most amazing is not that there was a fire, but that those damned trees are still there at all after 10 years of shooting fireworks at them. Hey y'all, make 'em go BEWM!

Sunday shenanigans included a schizophrenic adult (as described) that got separated from his caregiver and was apparently seen in multiple locations around the faire*. There was a reprise of Doobage Deeds Done Dirt Dumb in one of the privies, where a patron was the latest loser to learn that smoking weed in a privy stall leaves you nowhere to run when security shows up to rub your face in your on moronity (to coin a word).

* Yes, that was uncalled for, but we couldn't resist.
