THIS WEEK'S FEATURED TOPICS

TOTALLY UNPRECEDENTED PREVIEW EDITION

In blatant disregard for established modus operandi, we are publishing an official, one-page preliminary newsletter in response to the unbelievable events of recent weeks. With the "exceptional" drought now in it's 4th month and with lightning, sparking power wires and a whole bunch of irresponsible, douchebag people starting fires with thrown cigarette butts and illegal outdoor cooking fires, much of Texas has been vaporized in recent weeks.

Unfortunately, some very dear friends here at TRF and other faires have had their houses and their possessions go up in smoke, too. For example, the magical person behind Wee People, Kandra Niagra, lost her home a few weeks ago. Go read the Wee People Newsletter at <http://weepeople.com/drawer/sept2011newsletter.htm>. Get ready to choke up. Pirous and Cori Roberts, along with many other folks in Bastrop and others right here near TRF have also sustained catastrophic loss and damage. All of these people need our love and our support. We will be dedicating a spot in every newsletter to make sure they are heard and not forgotten as the merriment of Faire unfolds.

Catch-up News and New Stuff

Many folks probably noticed that the www.trfwtf.com website disappeared soon after last season ended. This was not intentional, but not exactly an accident either. We have secured a new home in a land far, far away and are back to continue the legacy. Our apologies in advance for any dweebs that end up with limp cyberweenies after trying to track us down again this year. Advice: Give up before you start. It will save a lot of time, effort and ego juice if you just accept that we are ghosts and you are insufficiently equipped to find us.

The mailbox at trfwtf@yahoo.com is still there and waiting for you to send your story ideas, pics of The People of TRF, rants, kudos, or anything else you think would be interesting enough that we wouldn't discard it with disdain. But we also want to hear of the greatness of our TRF friends. We want to know about people helping people and ideas on how to support those that have lost possessions and memories in the rampant fires around the state.

This year, we want to make this YOUR newsletter. Oh sure, we can cobble up dry humor and lunacy in world-class fashion, but that is really getting kind of stale. Now, don't fret. TRF(WTF?) will still maintain the entertainment value that has placed it among the most coveted reading material at faire for the last few years, but this year there will be more attention to responsible communication of important things. Get on board. Let us know what you think.
